Having met great teachers in her school life, Ms. Chan is dedicated to nurturing students with care and patience. Ms. Chan guides students to appreciate the beauty of science and to realize how science is associated with our daily lives. She also encourages them to be inventors or problem solvers with a logical and creative mind.

Mr. Danny George SORBY

English Language Teacher

Mr. Sorby obtained a Bachelor of Arts in English Studies from Sunderland University and a Master Degree in Applied Linguistics from the University of Birmingham. He holds a PGCE from Leeds Beckett University and a specialist training certificate for teaching ESL learners (CELTA). He is currently reading towards a Master Degree in Modern English Literature. He has been living and working in China since 2016 in different school contexts. He has a strong interest in languages and is an avid reader of literature. In terms of pedagogy, he is a believer in nurturing effective learning mindsets, where intelligence and talent are not a given but something that needs to be nurtured in each student.

Ms. Rachel Y. J. LAM

Biology Teacher

Ms. Lam obtained a Biological Science degree at Royal Holloway University of London, as well as a Postgraduate Certificate in Education at the University of Sunderland. Her teaching philosophy is that all students are gifted. She aspires to bring out the uniqueness in students and to stimulate students' learning.

Mr. Michael C. L. CHEUNG

English Language Teacher

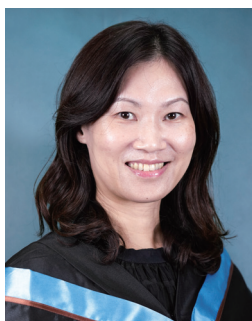

Mr. Cheung graduated from the University of Hong Kong with a Bachelor's Degree in Law. Having experience in curriculum planning and teaching at tertiary institutions, he believes in fostering students as independent learners. As a newcomer to G.T.
